Workers take channel samples at the early stage Durette Prospect during an exploration program on Baffin Island gold property in Nunavut. After six years of exploration, Commander Resources Inc. believes the district-scale property contains a pipeline of gold zones, prospects and showings. The main target on the Baffin Island Property is an iron formation-hosted gold deposit similar to the Proterozoic iron formation-hosted Homestake gold deposit in South Dakota. Commander is currently planning another C$5 million to C$6 million exploration program in 2010.
