

NORTH OF ▲ 60 MINING NEWS

- 2 Time running out at Red Dog
Aqqaluk permit appeal could force Teck to shut down Alaska zinc mine
- 13 New company seeks copper assets
Barclays backs senior execs to develop advance projects across the globe
- 22 Gold mine may warm Yellowknife
City studies heating buildings with geothermal energy from Con Mine shafts

The pit at Kinross Gold Corp.'s Fort Knox gold mine north of Fairbanks, Alaska. The Fort Knox deposit was formed about 90 million to 100 million years ago, a geologically productive period during which the Pebble, Livengood and Pogo deposits also were created.

PHOTO BY JUDY PATRICK

A special supplement to Petroleum News

WEEK OF
February 28, 2010

Petroleum
news